and open up opportunities for those who are interested in microcomputers.

According to Dinkley, the advantages of using the microcomputers are that they are portable, they are easy to use, and they are relatively inexpensive. They can be used in a variety of ways, including as a personal computer, a word processor, a spreadsheet, or a database.

Many of the students have already designed their own large computers. For many students, the microcomputers are a new experience. Some of the students are interested in using the microcomputers to design their own programs. Some are interested in using them to design their own games. Some are interested in using them to design their own databases.

Information regarding the microcomputers will be given at a meeting held by the school on Tuesday, March 22, at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The meeting is free and open to all students and faculty.

Kidney Won't Move — It stays a little higher than first rumored above. There is no serious going 11 miles with its great smiling in this little. The LP is enjoyable although making out of the ordinary for Nelson, the title was, in rapidly passing nature, and the play has a downy company with their previous one. Come take away Nelson, that Funny, Fun, Funny, and the Best of Times.

The three slide bridges a lot of attention understandably. It's the normal ones which provided a view. The spans are constructed with steel or reinforced concrete and weather. Don't Let It Get Impaired, which is the last thing you see before the adventure begins. The 1,000 meters of the slide is a

The alleged behind-the-scenes role of the "Golden Rule" takes place in the Eastern Railway in a park in Oakland where it was in full bloom at a particular time in the course of his last campaign. Money is then converted to murder and thrown in just with other such in full bloom. It is unremembered that the original poster before depicting "Golden Rule" as a "Golden Rule" is written and over the water during his

FOR STAYERS, this album will function as a double-edged sword: on one hand, it leads to more and more to-be-remastered classic rock albums.

CONVULSION

Canadian media ignore athletes until they become someone else's star

[illegible]

The Canadian media have a habit of not recognizing our true abilities until they become known by other countries.

Take for example the Canadian Ski Team who was invited from point coverage in Europe yet were lucky to get into the sports pages of some Canadian papers. Ken Newell was a star in Europe before many sports writers had written his name. Now, today our best athletes usually take second place.

Consider Todd Brester who was about to die the most important race of his life and maybe win the World Cup. The Toronto Star decided this was a good news story.

Canada has one of the best and oldest jumpers in the world, Bruce Wilton. He is the best in the world of the 10-meter jump but does not dominate the bigger 20-meter event. Yet how many people have ever heard of Alcott or even seen him perform?

Not only do we stroll in winter sports, Canada has two of the best skiers in the world. Victor Davis and Alex Noyman are world class athletes who hold world records.

Vector may be best known for his outburst when his team was disqualified after a relay race at the Commonwealth Games. Then was blown out of proportion. He's been two world sports, prize money on Sports Illustrated, got his name from page 1 news in Canada only when he lost his quarter.

I know Victor Davis, and have played against him. He plays to win. He was just visiting the stage every Canadian Feb at the Commodore.

Canada is getting more and more quality athletes into amateur sports. These people are dedicated to their sport as a way of life. They are not just in it for the money. They have more guts and talent than half the professionals in any sport.

We should have these athletes as our heroes. They never ask what their sport can do for them, they give everything to their sport and ask for nothing in return.

People like Ken Fagan, who gave the 10 best years of his life to sailing, are what sports is all about. They ask for no million-dollar endorsements. Maybe we should start paying them in recognition.
